1. Introduction

- purpose of the website.
The purpose of Twitter is to publish text messages, news, information, or any text topic to the public.
- its services.
It is a platform for searching, in which people post tweets that may contain videos, pictures, links, and texts, and the person publishes them in his account and sends them to those who follow him, in addition to the ability to follow people, as well as the ability to open audio spaces and talk about general or specialized topics, and the possibility of documenting the account to increase security , as well as the “hashtag #” tool, which is a method for sorting tweets within a section within the hashtag, as well as the ability to customize responses, as well as the ability to publish tweets in the “Line” section, which is a term meaning a group of tweets added to appear sequentially.
- the domain address
<https://twitter.com/>

2. Strategy

- the category of the business, and is this obvious on the website
The business category is social media, and yes it is clear on the website as well as clear to users.
- Is the design accomplishing the purpose of the website?
Yes, it achieves clearly, as the design shows users that it is a social networking site.

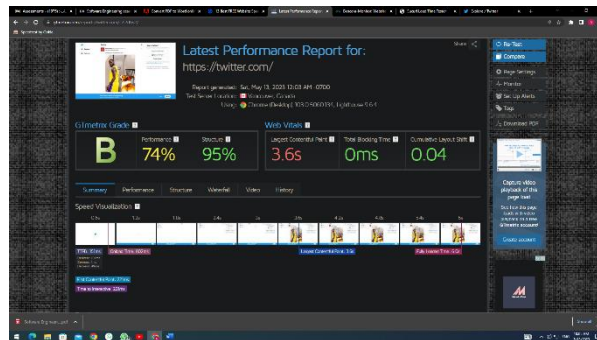

- the target audience

Anyone who wants to send text messages and express their opinion and send it to the public, or anyone who wants to read and know the daily events and what people are posting at this time.

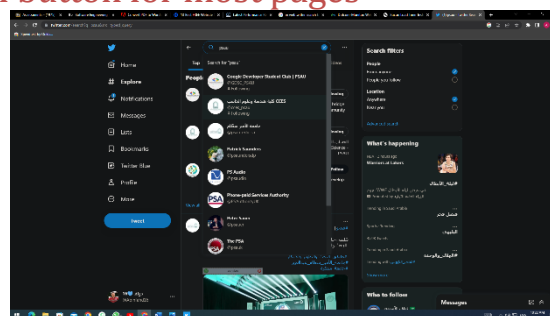

The design is very beautiful and easy to search for a specific topic or general direction. Designed to be easy to read. There are also forms of writing a tweet, which means writing a text for the audience.

3. Usability

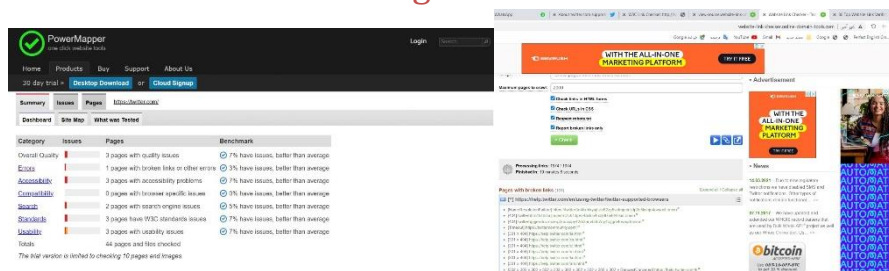

- The long does it take for pages to load, and the visitors get bored
Waiting 6second to load full page.
Not big time

- Search for information
the information can be found easily by writing in the general search and you will find people's messages on the same topic.
- search button availability
there is a search button for most pages

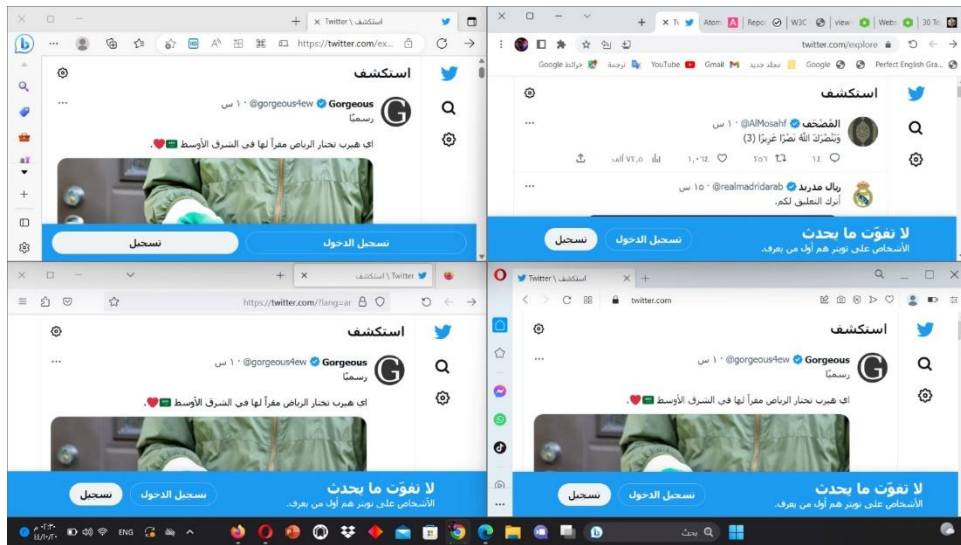

- check for whole links
all but most of links work good

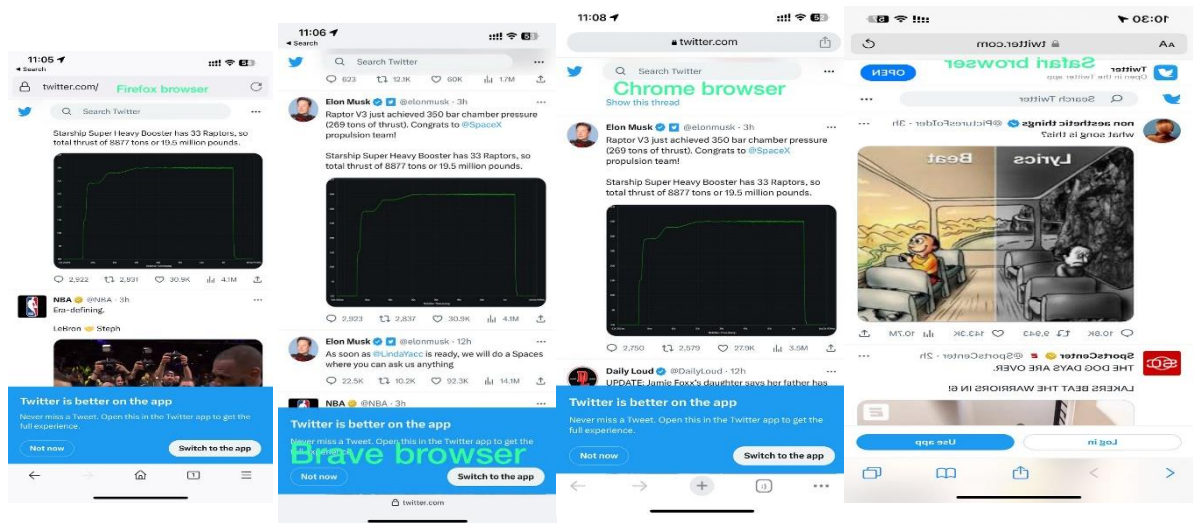

- supported browsers

Here proof from twitter <https://help.twitter.com/en/using-twitter/twitter-supported-browsers>

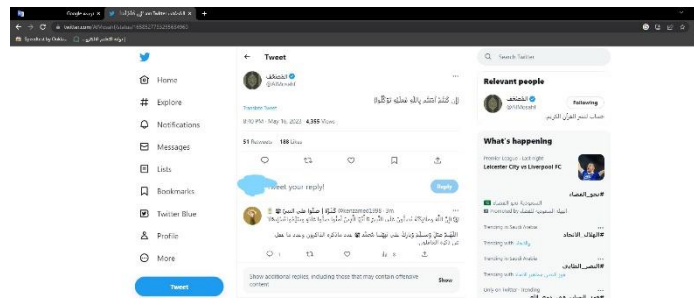

- supported mobile device

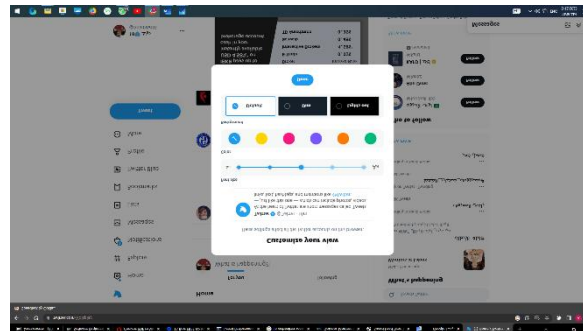

work in safari ,google chrome ,brave and firefox

4. Content and Readability

- the fonts
easy and very clear

- considerable contrast between the font color in the background color
the text color is black and the background color white see the next img for more details
- the text and appropriately size you can change preference in setting.

- the content is consistently and usefully
User There is flexibility to write content could tweet and be know there is limit letter number for each tweet but there is something they call it"thread"
Help you to write sequence tweet in same line.
And about system yup

5. write conclusion and at least three recommendations. (4 points)

Finally, we recommend you try "space" feature, it allowed to make like a voice chat, and you can invite anybody to listen or speak.
and I recommend to before use the site read the policy rules and keep reading it if there a new rule on it.
the rumors in any place and in twitter so be careful before share any news you must check from source the tweet from where came from

Note: Make cover page like the following example for your submission
